Art Unit: 2616

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 26 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 26 and 27 are directed to a memory storing a computer program, which do not fall into any category of the statutory subject matter.

4. Claims 24 and 25 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form.

Claims 24 and 25 are directed to a communication system which depend on claim 12, which is directed to a server, and therefore fail to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim since the server is included within the communication system.

5. Claims 11-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 11, line 1, "said second database", claim 23, line 2, "said database", each lacks antecedent basis.

In claims 24 and 25, it is unclear as to what is intended to be the claimed limitation by reciting "the foreign server comprising a server as claimed in claim 12".

Art Unit: 2616

In claim 25, line 3, "the server" has no clear antecedent.

In addition, Claims 12-23 are rejected as vague and indefinite since each claim recites only a single means (a server) and thus encompasses all possible means for performing a desired function. See Ex parte Bullock, 1907 C.D. 93; 127 O.G. 1580.

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 1-3, 6, 7, 9, 12-14, 16, 18-22, 24-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by BORELLA et al. in U.S. Patent No. 6,816,912 B1, hereinafter referred to as BORELLA.

Referring to claims 1-3, 6, 7, 9, 12-14, 16, 18-22, 24-27, BORELLA discloses a method, a server, a system, and a computer readable medium encoded with a computer program, when executed by a computer, for managing use of a service by a mobile user in a foreign wireless network in which the user registers via a foreign server in the foreign network and the foreign server, in response to a request for access to a service by a mobile user, sends to a home server in the user's home network, utilizing Session Initiation Protocol (SIP) MESSAGES in accordance with the Session Initiation Protocol (see col. 6, lines 10-29, col. 9, line 44 to col. 10, line 22, col. 10, line 33 to col. 11, line 29, col. 11, line 37 to col. 14, line 20, col. 16, line 53 to col. 17, line 59).

Art Unit: 2616

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

10. Claims 4, 5, 8, 10, 11, 15, 17 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over BORELLA in view of O'NEILL et al. in U.S. Patent No. 6,970,445 B2, hereinafter referred to as O'NEILL.

Referring to claims 4, 5, 8, 10, 11, 15, 17 and 23, BORELLA differs from the claims, in that, it does not disclose the feature of utilizing databases for storing user profiles and access authorization information, which is well known in the art and commonly used in wireless communications field for network security purpose.

O'NEILL, for example, from the similar field of endeavor, teaches the use of plural databases for storing user profiles and access authorization information (see col. 6, line 62 to col. 7, line 49), which can be easily adopted by one of ordinary skill in the art into the method, server, system, and computer readable medium, to provide network security to further improve the system integrity and reliability.

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Dantu et al. '033, '913, '863 & '925, Requena, Tsirtsis et al., Cambell et al., and Westman are all cited to show the common feature of wireless network utilizing Session Initiation Protocol (SIP) MESSAGES in accordance with the Session Initiation Protocol similar to the claimed invention.

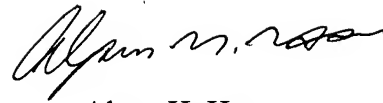

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Alpus H. Hsu whose telephone number is (571)272-3146. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (5:30-3:00) First Friday Off.
